

Dictation Contest (PRJr, 初級) No. 101

Hi, everyone! How are you?

Today I am going to read a few sentences from the Eiken level-five Etan.

This is a math class.

We study five hours a day.

Do you know the test day, Jack?

We all like this lesson.

It's two o'clock now.

Did you guys write that down? I will see you guys in another video. Bye!

Dictation Contest (PR1, 中級) No. 101

Hi, guys! How are you?

This is PR1 dictation. I am going to continue reading Toy Story.

One year, Andy got a brand new toy for his birthday, a space ranger named Buzz Lightyear.

Buzz had flashing lasers, gadgets and even wings. Buzz thought that he was a real space ranger.

He even thought he could fly. Woody tried to tell Buzz that he was actually a toy but Buzz wouldn't listen.

Okay, that's it for today. I'll see you guys in another video. Bye!

Dictation Contest (PR2 上級) No. 101

Hey, everyone! How are you?

Welcome to PR2 dictation. Today I am going to be reading from this book: The Intellectual Devotional. And today's topic is going to be on the sculpture David. David is a sculpture by Michelangelo and even if the name doesn't ring a bell, I'm sure all of you, if you see a picture, would definitely recognize it so take a listen to this:

In 1501 the republic of Florence hired Michelangelo to sculpt a figure of David for the facade of its cathedral. The Old Testament king, a heroic warrior who had vanquished the giant Goliath in his youth, was commonly regarded as the protector of the Tuscan city. The commission had initially been granted to another artist who died shortly after blocking out a huge piece of expensive marble. According to legend, Michelangelo received the job because he was the only one willing to work with the spoiled stone. When Michelangelo completed the figure in 1504 it was considered too extraordinary to be placed high up on the church, instead it was placed before the Palazzo Vecchio on the Piazza della Signoria in the very center of Florence.

So, did you guys learn something new today? I'll see you guys in another video. Bye!
