

Dictation Contest (PRJr, 初級) No. 1035

Good afternoon, everyone! This is PR Junior.

Have you seen the beautiful cherry blossoms outside? They are in full bloom right now.

I also wanted to take nice pictures of the flowers, but every time I go outside, it is cloudy. Also, I am very bad at taking pictures, so the flowers don't look pink. They look white, which is not what I want.

If you are good at taking pictures, please give me some advice!

Anyways, I'll see you next time!

Dictation Contest (PR 1, 中級) No. 1035

Hi, everyone! Welcome back to PR1!

Today we will be talking about the moon.

Do you know anything about the moon? Now we know that the moon is near the Earth and goes around the Earth in about a month. Long ago people all over the world imagined many things when they looked at the moon. Some people believed it was a god. And others thought it was just a light in the sky or a big ball of cheese. People wanted to go to the moon, but it was only a dream.

Later people learned a lot of things about the moon. When people looked at it with telescopes, they found that it was really another world. People were dreaming of visiting it. Many people worked together to find how to send some people to the moon.

That's it for today, see you next time!

Dictation Contest (PR2 上級) No. 1035

Hi, everyone! Welcome back to PR 2!

Today I will talk about traveling in the US. Let's begin!

Global superpower, economic titan, and cultural colossus, it's hard to get your head around just how big the United States of America is. From sea to shining sea, it is full of instantly recognisable landmarks: the Statue of Liberty, the Empire State Building, the Golden Gate Bridge, Mount Rushmore, and the White House for starters. Mother Nature's efforts are equally impressive, from Niagara Falls to the Great Lakes, Glacier National Park to the Grand Canyon. No other country boasts so many stellar major cities: Los Angeles, Las Vegas, Chicago, Miami, Boston, New Orleans, Washington DC, San Francisco and New York City to name but a few — any one of which would be a revered capital anywhere else in the world. The great American experience is about so many things. It's unforgettable cities, spectacular drives, magnificent national parks, epic festivals, superlative museums, world-class live music — and a seemingly endless smorgasbord of distinctive, delicious local cuisine. From the fresh, steaming seafood of Maryland and Maine to the rich, smoky barbecue of North Carolina and Texas, American food is known for its portion sizes, but is equally big on taste. Wherever you're coming from and whatever you're looking for, this diverse and beguiling nation has a corner for you.

That's all for today! See you!
