

Dictation Contest (PRJr, 初級) No. 181

Hello, guys!

Let's see what Stink is up to today...

"Measure me again," Stink said to Judy. "One more time before bed!"

"Stink, I just measured you this morning!"

"That was before I ate all those peas and drank all that milk," said Stink.

Stink put on his shoes. He stood next to the 'shrimp-o-meter'. He stood up straight, he stood up tall.

Hmm, do you think he is taller now? Let's find out later. Bye!

Dictation Contest (PR1, 中級) No. 181

Hey, guys! How's it going?

So last time, our heroes decided to fight back against the devious Trade Federation. They have to capture its leader, Viceroy Gunray, and save their own people. Let's see how it goes...

Padme, Anakin, and the Jedi sneak into the palace. They release the Naboo pilots, who blast off in starfighters and attack the Federation fleet in space. Suddenly, Darth Maul appears! Qui-Gon and Obi-Wan face the villain as Padme and her guards race off to capture the Viceroy.

Oh! It looks like there'll be lots of action happening from now on! Tune in next time, okay?

See you, guys!

Hey, guys! How are you doing?

Hope you're all still staying healthy and safe.

I'm going to read another little bit from this non-canonical novel today, and this time, a spiritual message from our main character to his former master. Take a listen:

Today was... interesting. I took a chance and went to the Pika Oasis. Dannar's Claim, the big compound up there. They have just about everything I need – except, maybe, an army to free the Republic. But I didn't stay. That's part of the problem. There are too many people there – but not quite enough, either. The bigger places like Mos Eisley, I can lose myself in. So many travelers come in and out. This place is busy, too, but the oasis also has a lot of regulars, who do nothing but watch the comings and goings all day. My arrival was, I'm ashamed to say, something of a spectacle. I can't let that happen again. I'm here to protect the child. When it comes to the Tusken, the locals' help might come in handy. It's a threat they're familiar with. I had a brush with the Sand People years earlier, when you and I brought Padme here; they're formidable warriors. If something happens such that I- such that I can't continue my watch – well, let's not think about that.

Hmm, so some more familiar names in there, perhaps, and we definitely know what our protagonist's purpose is, but I've still no idea where this particular story is heading.

Maybe we'll find out soon?

Well until then – and as always – study hard, stay safe, and I'll see you soon.
