- Tim: Do you have any pets?
Hana: Yeah, I have a dog. What about you?
Tim: No, I don't have any pets.
Hana: Do you want a pet?
Tim: Yeah, I want a cat. Because cats are so cute and also easy to look after.
Hana: Hmm, so you're a cat person then.
Tim: Yeah, I really like cats. But they don't really like me.
Hana: Hmm, maybe it's because you talk too much.

Dictation Contest (PR1, 中級) No. 27

- Tim: Hey, do you guys have any pets?
Anda: No, I don't.
Hana: Nah, me neither.
Tim: Hmm. If you could have any animal as a pet, what would it be?
Anda: I think I'd have a cat because they're so cute.
Hana: I think I would have a pet dragon. Because then I could ride on its back and set fire to my enemies; it would be awesome! What about you, Tim?
Tim: Uh, I would have a pet velociraptor! Because they're so cool and fierce and nobody would bother me because my pet velociraptor would scare them away!
Hana: Yeah, and then your pet velociraptor and my pet dragon can [could] be friends and go on adventures together!
Tim: Yeah, that sounds so awesome!
Anda: Hey! Am I the only normal person here? Guys--.

Yo! It's me.

How are you all doing? Good? Good.

Now, there was a story going around the internet recently and I found an article that neatly summarizes it here, so listen to this:

The U.S. Defense Department said April 27 that it has authorized the release of three UFO videos that have already been circulating among the public. The department said it is releasing the clips "in order to clear up any misconceptions by the public on whether or not the footage that has been circulating was real, or whether or not there is more to the videos." It added that the "aerial phenomena" observed in the videos remain characterized as "unidentified." The Videos show flying objects and service members apparently reacting with surprise to what they were witnessing, such as by saying "My gosh!" and "They are all going against the wind."

Ooh. What do you think? Do you think they were actual UFOs? Do you believe in UFOs?

Let's talk about it in class next time. OK?

Alright, guys. Stay safe, and see you soon.
