

Dictation Contest No. 4 (PRJr, 初級)

Tomohiro: Oh, you guys are doing a great job.

Tim & Yukana: Thanks Tomohiro.

Tim: Why is he not helping us?

Yukana: He is just playing on his phone.

Tomohiro: I'm so tired.

Tim & Yukana: Me too.

Dictation Contest No.4 (PR1, 中級)

Tomohiro: Oh, good job you guys, but Tim, I think you missed a spot.

Tim: Oh, so I did.

Tim: Can you believe this guy? Oh, so lazy.

Yukana: I know. He is not doing anything. He is just sitting there, playing on his phone you know.

Tim: Right. What an...

Tomohiro: Did you guys say something?

Tim & Yukana: Ah... No, No, we didn't.

Tomohiro: I don't know why but I'm so exhausted.

Tim & Yukana: Unbelievable.

Dictation Contest No.4 (PR2, 上級)

Tim: Hey, listen to this one buddy. "Town planner and sports business planner Yuichiro Sakurai is currently taking an English course to brush up his English. 'My twin fields of expertise are town planning and sports-particularly business planning in those domains,' explained Sakurai in his office in late February. 'Right now, in these sectors, business opportunities are increasing rapidly as the Olympics are getting closer. I'm pressed to hone my communication skills to be able to communicate in English with universities and sports teams of other countries.' Sakurai mainly learned to speak English not in the U.S. or the U.K. but in Russia. While studying-

Tomohiro; Oh my God. Tim, stop. I just don't care. I'm trying to do my work. Can you please just stop talking to me? Thank you.

Tim: Oh, and he also...
