

Dictation Contest (PRJr, 初級) No. 618

Hi everyone! Welcome back to PR Junior.

This is part thirteen of the story about the undersea adventure. Let's begin.

"Bother! The lights don't work," he said.

Linda looked out of the window.

"Oh, no! Help! Professor Beetle! I can see huge rocks," she called.

"No, I don't need clean socks," said the Professor. "Now, where's that fuse?" he began to look for his tool box.

"Look out!" yelled Bruno. "We're going to crash!"

What's going to happen?

That is all for today. See you.

Dictation Contest (PR2 上級) No. 618

Hello, everyone! Welcome back to PR2.

Today, you are going to listen to an old story about a nurse who was in a difficult situation. Let's begin!

One of the children in the nursery was sick.

The child's mother, who was usually quite vivacious and chattered constantly, was quiet and worried.

She knew that if she did not act quickly, the child's condition would deteriorate.

She summoned the children's nurse and said to her, "The monks made a medicine that can cure my child's sickness. Please, hurry tonight to the monastery and get it."

The nurse immediately hurried from the manor to get the medicine.

The monastery was far away by Rabbit Cove, and there was no freeway leading to it.

The only way there was to walk along a dark winding trail.

The temperature was close to zero degrees centigrade, and it was raining.

Luckily, the nurse had grabbed her raincoat beforehand.

She zipped it up and pulled the hood over her head.

"I'll never make it there," she thought. "Perhaps I should return and go in the morning."

But she remembered the sick child and decided to continue.

Can you imagine how difficult it must have been for her in that moment?

Come back next time to find out what happens next. Bye-bye!
