

Dictation Contest (PRJr, 初級) No. 630

Hello, everyone! Welcome to PR Junior.

Today, I will be reading about Jill's grandpa's computer, which is around Eiken level four.

Let's begin:

On Saturday, Jill went to his grandfather's house and helped him with his computer. After two hours, his grandfather could use the internet.

"Let's eat lunch," his grandfather said. They went to have hamburgers, and Jill also had some ice cream. His grandfather told him some funny stories.

This is it for today. See you!

Dictation Contest (PR 1, 中級) No. 630

Hello, everyone. Welcome back to PR1.

Today, we'll continue reading the story about the Cat and the Fox. Let's begin.

"Do you want me to be your tutor? I can teach you many things," the fox said.

The cat replied, "I guarantee that my plan works every time. We can quit talking about it."

Soon, they saw a group of wolves. It was an emergency. The cat quickly used her plan. She ran up a tree. The fox could not decide which plan to use. "What should my initial move be? Should I consult my friends?" The fox felt intense anxiety. All he could do was spin in a circle. The wolves caught the fox. The cat was full of pride. This is proof that having a good plan is better than having many bad plans.

That's all for today. See you next time!

Dictation Contest (PR2 上級) No. 630

Hello, everyone! Welcome back to PR2!

Today, I'm going to read you the continuation of the story about the newspaper editor who stood up for what he believed in. Let's begin!

Many would say that he was not a patriot – that he didn't love the empire. But he didn't wish to undermine the authority of the empire. He wanted to argue that the empire could be stronger if it accepted people of various cultures and beliefs.

At last, he decided to stop being a coward and to be earnest about how he felt. He wrote the article. It wasn't rude or angry, but rather, very solemn and intelligent. The next day it was published in all the papers.

Everyone was impressed by his tact and showed solidarity with his ideas. He expected to be arrested any day, but the police never came. Surprisingly, instead of being prosecuted, he became a hero. The legislature changed the law, and people from many linguistic backgrounds praised him.

"Never be afraid to be vocal," the editor later wrote. "If you think something is wrong, then stand up for what you believe."

That was all. What did you think? I think it is a good idea to express your opinion on how things could potentially improve. So long as you're respectful about how you say it, you could end up changing a lot of things for the better!

Anyways, I'll see you next time! Bye-bye!
