

Dictation Contest (PRJr, 初級) No. 633

Hello, everyone! Welcome back to PR Junior.

This is part twenty-three of the story about the Litter King. Let's begin!

"How dare you!" screamed the Litter King.

"Do as you're told. If you don't, I will lock you up with my giant rats."

Charlie was so scared of the Litter King that he got on the airplane.

"I wish this adventure was over," he thought.

That is all for today. Come back next time to hear the rest of the story! Bye-bye!

Dictation Contest (PR 1, 中級) No. 633

Hello, everyone! Welcome to PR1.

Today, I will be reading about preservation efforts of Lake Eyre, which is around Eiken level 3. Let's begin!

Some people are worried that Lake Eyre may disappear forever. Companies now use water from the rivers around the lake – they use it for farming and other businesses. If they use too much, there may not be any water left to make Lake Eyre. Now, groups are trying to protect the lake. Some environmental groups have bought land near the lake so that other people cannot use the water, and the Australian government has made the lake a national park. Hopefully, with these efforts, Lake Eyre will continue to exist for years to come.

This is it for today! See you!

Dictation Contest (PR2 上級) No. 633

Hello, everyone! Welcome back to PR2.

Today, we are going to listen to a conversation between a doctor and a patient. Let's begin!

Kaho: Good evening, doctor. How are you today?

Yerin: Good evening, Kaho. You look pale and your voice is out of tune.

Kaho: Yes, doctor. I have a sore throat and also feel very tired.

Yerin: Hmm, let me see. You have a moderate fever.

Kaho: This thermometer is very different from the one you used the last time.

Yerin: Yes, it's a new introduction by medical equipment companies. It's much more convenient, as it doesn't require cleaning after every use.

Kaho: That's awesome.

Yerin: Yes, it is. Based on the thermometer, your temperature is not too high and also your blood pressure is fine as well. Let's check your throat. It looks bit scruffy. Not good. Do you get sweating and shivering?

Kaho: Yes, it has been quite bad.

Yerin: I'm prescribing three medicines and a syrup. The number of dots in front of each tells you how many times in the day you have to take them. For example, the two dots here mean that you have to take the medicine twice in the day: once in the morning and once after dinner. Do you have any questions?

Kaho: No, doctor. Thank you.

That's all for today. See you next time !
