

Dictation Contest (PRJr, 初級) No. 64

Hello, everyone!

Today, we will read The Little Mermaid.

The Little Mermaid's tail disappeared, and once again she had legs. Ariel was now a human. Prince Eric awoke in time to see his beloved Ariel running onto the shore. They were married that day. After the wedding Prince Eric and Ariel sailed off on their honeymoon to live happily ever after.

See you next time!

Dictation Contest (PR1, 中級) No. 64

Hello, everyone!

This is a PR1 dictation video. Again, I will be continuing on with Harry Potter. Let's see if you can understand this:

A boy with dreadlocks was surrounded by a small crowd. 'Give us a look, Lee, go on.' The boy lifted the lid of a box in his arms and the people around him shrieked and yelled as something inside poked out a long, hairy leg.

Did you guys understand that? OK I will see you guys in another video. Take care, and... bye!

Dictation Contest (PR2 上級) No. 64

Hello, everyone!

I hope you're doing wonderful in these sunny days. Today, we will read a book called "A Simple Plan" by Scott Smith.

I stuck my head in through the doorway, allowed my eyes a moment to adjust to the lack of light, then squeezed my whole body inside. I was hurrying, thinking about Jacob sitting out on the road in my car, and of all the possibilities for things going wrong because of that, when I felt the unnatural warmth on my face I'd noticed the day before, the same heavy stillness to the air, and the memory of the bird shot through my mind.

Good job, everyone! I will see you next time. Take care!
