

Dictation Contest (PRJr, 初級) No. 890

Hi, everyone! Welcome back to PR Jr!

Today I will talk about how to cook pasta with bacon and tomato sauce. Let's begin.

First, cut the onion, red peppers, and bacon into small pieces.

Second, heat some olive oil in a pan and fry the onion, red peppers, and bacon.

Third, add oregano, garlic, tomatoes, and water, and cook for 20 minutes.

Next, cook the pasta in a big pot of boiling water.

Last, serve the pasta with the sauce, and enjoy!

That's all for today! See you!

Dictation Contest (PR 1, 中級) No. 890

Greetings, everyone! This is PR1!

Let me read to you the story of Artemis, the goddess of the Moon and the hunt in Greek mythology.

Over time, she has also become known for her ties with childbirth and nature. When Artemis was just a few days old, she helped her mother give birth to her twin brother Apollo.

Artemis is universally depicted as a young, beautiful huntress carrying a quiver with arrows and holding a bow. As a moon goddess she is sometimes wearing a long robe and a crescent moon crown.

Fun fact: in Modern-Day Turkey, you can find the Temple of Artemis in Ephesus, one of the seven wonders of the Ancient World.

Okay, that is all that I have today! See you next time!

Hey, guys! How are you doing?

Hope you're all still staying healthy and safe.

It's been a little while since I've done one of these travel segments, and I've got one here that's about somewhere a little close to home. It's not exactly where I grew up, but it is a place I feel a sort of regional fondness for – because “long live The North”! Okay, here we go:

The landscape of the Yorkshire Dales is the landscape you see in classic British TV shows like All Creatures Great and Small and Heartbeat. With its rolling hills and drystone walls, Hawes and its surrounding area are the quintessential Yorkshire experience.

Take a walk in the surrounding countryside to experience the rugged beauty of the Yorkshire Dales. A highlight for young visitors is the Snaizeholme Red Squirrel Trail, where you can see the tiny critters feeding – and maybe even spy a deer.

Visit the Hardraw Force, a 30-metre-tall waterfall that's just a short walk from the famous Green Dragon Inn. This stunner is said to be England's highest unbroken waterfall. Also, take a drive along Buttertubs Pass to enjoy a panoramic view of the countryside.

Now, it's back to the Green Dragon Inn. Fans of The Lord of the Rings may recognize the name, but it's got nothing to do with the books. On the other hand, as you finish your third local ale in front of a warm fireplace, you might see hobbits dancing and drinking out of the corner of your eye.

Finally, stop by the Wensleydale Creamery to learn about the famously crumbly cheese.

Ah, you see, there you go – Yorkshire. Yet another place outside of London to consider visiting if you ever make it over to the UK.

Alright, guys, well, until next time – and as always – study hard, stay safe, and I'll see you soon.
